

John Hopkins

On retirement from teaching, John Hopkins started watercolour painting by joining Winifred Hodges` classes in 2002. He currently enjoys trying to create pictures in the West Burton and Carperby painting groups that meet once a week.

. "I really enjoy it still, and prefer not to agonise and paint quickly once started."