

Richard is professional photographer living and working in Upper Swaledale, the most northerly of the Yorkshire Dales. He takes inspiration from exploring the stunning landscape that surrounds his home and place of work, and the challenge of recording its ever-changing light, patterns, textures and moods.

With his partner, Polly, Richard owns and manages The Old School Muker Art Gallery and Craft centre where you can view his photographs alongside the work of some fabulous artists, print makers and crafts people.