

Hill is happy painting on board, canvas or walls. Big is best, less is more and simple is cool. Loves acrylic paint, brush, roller or spray, tried oils once... it was like wading through mud... love watercolour and pen and ink, horses for courses (although don't ask me to draw one!). Outside of art he is a petrolhead and if he can combine the two that's brilliant, he grew up on Marvel comics, British TV and bicycles so these also feature in a lot of his work!
